DEWING RECEIVES NATIONAL ALUMNI ACHIEVEMENT AWARD

Merlin E. Dewing '56, '58 received the Alumni Achievement Award of Delta Tau Delta Fraternity at the 77th Karnea held at Columbus, Ohio on August 8-11, 1984. Brother Dewing was recognized by the Fraternity for his exemplary professional achievement, and outstanding community leadership.

In his capacity as Managing Partner of the Twin Cities office of Peat, Marwick, Mitchell & Co., he is responsible for over 250 staff, and for the direction, development and overall administration of the Twin Cities practice. His special talents have been called upon by his profession as he serves on PMM & Company's Long Range Planning Committee and has been elected to serve as President of the Minnesota Society of CPAs and as a member of the Governing Council of the American Institute of Certified Public Accountants. Recently he was elected to the International Board of Directors of PMM & Company. He is a well recognized leader in his profession.

Brother Dewing has been recognized as a leader in one of the major metropolitan cities of the nation, serving as President of many civic, service and community organizations. He is past-president of the Greater Minneapolis Chamber of Commerce, Director on the Bush Foundation, and chaired the Major League Baseball Task Force in Minneapolis which successfully found a buyer of the Twins team to keep them in Minnesota. He has championed the cause of business providing funds and leadership for cultural and social organizations and programs, contributing to the State's quality of life. Minneapolis is a leader in the Nation in this aspect, in part because of this good Delt.

Brother Dewing consistently maintains an interest in his alma mater and his Fraternity, lending his leadership, time and talent to their betterment. He has been called upon twice to serve as President of the UND Alumni Association, including during the important Centennial year celebrations and $25 Million Endowment Campaign. In 1983, Merlin received the Sioux Award, the highest honor presented by UND.

Merlin has been generous to Delta Tau Delta, never forgetting that his leadership training and "team skills" were developed through that experience. He often visits the chapter, and has even sponsored a leadership retreat with alumni and undergraduates at his lake cabin. This Good Delt answers every call for assistance. The chapter greatly respects Brother Dewing, and they feel inspired by his example and concern. His brotherhood is ageless . . . extending to all brothers . . . and deeply felt. In a gathering of Delts, he is a natural leader, bringing people together, encouraging them to be their best, and bringing out the good Delt in all of us. We are very proud of this extraordinary Delt, and in accepting our Fraternity's award has brought further honor to himself and all North Dakota Delts.

Merlin and his wife Barbara (McConachie) '57 reside at 2335 Aquilla Ave. N. in Golden Valley, MN 55427. They have three children: Lisa, Scott and Jeffrey.

FLEMING NAMED DISTINGUISHED DELT ALUMNUS

NEIL W. FLEMING '65, '68 was named Distinguished Delt Alumnus at the Parents Alumni Banquet held March 2, 1985. Brother Fleming was honored by the Chapter for his dedication, leadership, generosity and attitude. He has given countless hours to the Fraternity, offered legal counsel to members, the House Corporation and the Educational Foundation; and serves as a Director on those Boards. He donated the large oak conference table for the chapter library, and provides the funding for the Outstanding Pledge of Second Semester. (Neil, a second semester pledge himself, felt the award might help recruit second semester pledges.) He has offered his spacious home for rush functions and recently was at the chapter making a presentation for Career Days. The chapter was pleased to recognize this good Delt.

Neil has practiced law in Cavalier, North Dakota since 1970 and has an excellent reputation for handling trial cases. He has been President of the Pembina County Nursing Home, been active in Democrat politics, and active with the Grand Forks and North Dakota Fair Boards.

He and his wife Charlotte have three sons — James, Robert and Thomas — and one daughter Catherine.

PRESIDENT'S COLUMN

Dear Alumnus,

A very successful and productive year is completed with the graduation of 5 members. In order to fill the void of these graduating members, Delta Xi rushed hard this spring and pledged 15 quality men. There was a slight incentive that motivated us to this phenomenal number of spring pledges. Enterprising Brother Bruce Gjovig inspired us with a $1,000 bonus if we pledged 14 men. The chapter plans to use the money towards maintaining its stable financial position.

With Delta Xi's move to the Northern Division brought many new hopes. This enthusiasm was brought forward when nine members attended the Divisional Conference in Skokie, Illinois. Delta Xi had the most members attending and also traveled the longest distance.

We are also proud of our new cook, Marlene Flohaug, whom the members of the house term "Ma." She is a wonderful cook and she also inspires etiquette.

The annual Greek Week was a success. Delta Xi won events such as Tugowar, "Lip synche," three legged race and others to win the Greek Week competition.

Again I would like to remind all alumni of the 50th reunion planned for October 11-13. The chapter is working hard in preparation for this major event and would like all alumnus to attend.

Brotherly,
Joseph T. Johnson

St. Croix River Reunion

For a change of pace, the Apple River Reunion will be changed to a reunion on the beautiful St. Croix River in Stillwater, Minnesota. The weekend is set for June 21-23. This will be coordinated into our summer rush, so come and meet some prospective new members. Stillwater, Minnesota is located on the Minnesota-Wisconsin border, where the bridge is leading to the Apple River.

If you plan to attend, contact:

Joseph Johnson, Chairman
510 So. Broadway
Stillwater, MN 55082
Phone (612) 439-1571

Since the installation of an IBM-PC in the shelter last fall, a majority of the members are discovering exactly how easy it is to become computer literate. With the installation of a Modem, which allows direct tie-in to the University's computer system, and high-resolution graphics capability, the system is starting to fulfill the needs of the chapter.

By the start of the fall semester, all of the chapters financial records will be stored on floppy disks, cutting the treasurer's work load in half.

The chapter is quite enthused about their computer system which is setting them above all other houses in a commitment to education.

DELT PARKING LOT

The Delta Tau Delta Educational Foundation invested in the lot owned by the City of Grand Forks that is just across the alley from the Chapter House to the north. The House Corporation had been leasing that lot for three years to park about twenty cars. The bid of $10,360 was accepted on April 1, even though the city assessor placed the value of $19,500 on the 8,654 square foot piece of property. About $2,000 in improvement are needed on the property such as additional graveling, drainage and maintenance on the two-car garage on the property.

The Educational Foundation wanted to make this investment as it will meet the parking needs of the chapter for the future, and if the chapter house is ever added onto, that space is crucial for that expansion. Buying land in the University area is also considered to be a good long-term investment.

A Fund drive is underway to raise the money for the purchase and improvements. So far $5,000 has been raised from the efforts of Merlin Dewing '56, '58 who is contacting a handful of alumni to contribute to the $12,500 project. Merlin has indicated that should the response bring in more funds than is required, the additional funds would be applied to the $300,000 endowment campaign. Those funds will carry the mortgage on the Chapter House and the income provides scholarships and funding for worthy programs for the undergraduate Delts. We are hoping for a favorable response, and anyone wishing to participate is encouraged to do so.

DELT LEGACIES

Among the 50 members of Delta Tau Delta at UND, there is a good diversity of hometowns with thirteen states and two foreign countries being represented. We have been known as the "melting pot" on campus for several years with our members coming from all over the country, many of whom are majors in the Center for Aerospace Sciences.

At least seven of the Brothers have more in common, however, as Delt legacies including three legacies from our own chapter. The seven are Jack Muhs of Towner, ND, brother of Bob Muhs '76; Rob Geisler of Bloomington, MN, grandson of Roscoe Lokken '29, '32; Chuck Petty of Hamilton, MT who is a cousin of Dr. Russ Petty '70, '72; Tip Tipton of Bloomington, MN whose father William Tipton II is an Auburn Delt; Tim Peirce of Grand Rapids, MI whose father, Dr. John C. Peirce is a Michigan Delt; Dave Ulmen of Edina, MN whose father, Thomas Ulmen is a Minnesota Delt; and Jamie Walsh of New Ulm, MN who has two grandfathers and two uncles who were South Dakota Delts. His father, however, was a member of Beta Theta Pi.

If any of you have a son, grandson, nephew or cousin who is attending a school with a Delt chapter, do let the chapter know of his arrival so they can rush him. Alumni referrals are very much appreciated, and our chapter enjoys extending the Brotherhood of Delta Tau Delta. Even if he doesn't chose Delt, maybe he will be encouraged to go Greek.

PAINTERS WITH A MISSION

UND students help with paint job

(Taken from the Grand Forks Herald, Sunday, February 3, 1985)

by Michele Cook
Herald Staff Writer

Some of the peeling walls in the Grand Forks Mission got a lift Saturday when members of the Delta Tau Delta fraternity at the University of North Dakota took time out from studies and parties to paint.

About 30 of the fraternity's 45 members helped rejuvenate the hallway and recreation room on the main floor of the mission, 420 Division Ave.

"Everybody seems to feel pretty good about doing this," said Ron Nelson, a fraternity member who helped organize the project. "They weren't too excited about coming over here, but once we came, things started steamrolling."

Like most of the students, Nelson had never been inside the mission. He said the experience was beneficial to the residents and the fraternity.

"In fact, we met one resident whose mother had cooked for our fraternity six years ago," he said.

A mother of one of the pledge members suggested the fraternity consider the mission as a service project. Calvary Lutheran Church donated the paint.

"We started with 10 gallons of paint and thought that would do it," Nelson said. By the end of the afternoon, they had emptied 17 gallons.

The fraternity's 15 pledges — students who want to join the group — took up paint brushes at 6 a.m. They had no choice. Other members stopped by at their convenience.

Six or seven women from Kappa Alpha Theta, a campus sorority, pitched in at the fraternity's suggestion. "We figured getting some girls over here would liven things up," Nelson said.

Delta Tau Delta plans to issue a challenge to other campus fraternities to match their work at the mission. Several students said they would be interested in returning to the mission to do more work.

The Rev. Dwain Steinkuehler, director of the mission, recently appealed to area churches for help remodeling the mission. Volunteers from Calvary Lutheran painted a room, and First Presbyterian Church members have promised to paint the hallways on the building's top two floors.

Next week, the mission will appeal to the public through television commercials. The 30-second spots will explain the mission's role in the community. "It's basically just a plea to the community to come and work with us," said Cass Johnson, the mission's assistant director.

Stella Lutz, a mission resident, took a good look around the recreation room when the students were nearly finished. The dirty green walls had been buried by creamy yellow paint, and the worn green carpet looked perkier with a shampoo and vacuum.

"It's worth it," she said, smiling.

Tom Martin, a senior at UND, gets some help from Paul and Lee Goble, background, painting the trim.

UND student Ron Nelson paints in the windowsill at the Grand Forks Mission.
